2022-APHIS-03838-F	Cohen, Jon	Science	I'd like to understand what the National Veterinary Stockpile has done from inception to date. My questions relate to these slides: https://www.aphis.usda.gov/animal_health/emergency_management/downloads/nvs-overview.pdf 1. Please provide an updated list of the high-consequence pests (slide 5) other than avian influenza and the henipaviruses that are considered threats to humans via zoonotic jumps. This slide is from a list made in April 2013. What is the list now? 2. Please provide a table or other record that shows when the deployable countermeasures have been deployed (slide 6). Ideally this would include date, location, pathogen and countermeasure. 3. Please provide a list of animal vaccines that are in the stockpile. I saw an announcement from Zoetis for funding to supply an H5N1. 4. Please provide records showing whether Tamiflu and Relenza are the only two drugs still in the stockpile. And are these for animals or humans? If humans, please provide records regarding how this coordinates with same drugs in stockpile for humans overseen by BARDA. 5. Please provide an SOP or other record showing in what circumstances different depopulation devices are deployed. Foam for poultry but also a euthanasia device for turkeys? Bolts for cattle? CO2? 6. Please supply all public comments USDA has received about the stockpile. (Date Range for Record Search: From 1/1/2004 To 6/1/2022)	5/31/2022
